

The Clinton Body Count

The Case that Might bring Slick Willy Down!

Washington D.C. ~ INS ~ Impudent News Service has confirmed that arrest warrants have been issued in West Arkansas for President William J. Clinton in one of the Clinton Body Count cases.

The case, long known in western Arkansas as "The Time the Hogs Ate Billy Bob Bodine" was apparently kept so quiet for so long because of the "pure embarrassment factor" for then governor, Clinton. While the official coroner's report stated that Mr. Bodine, "Got drunk as a Loon on Ozark corn squeezin's and fell in a pen full of voracious hogs with all his pockets full of peanuts and pickled eggs and was rooted to death before he could be rescued" the coroner's relationship to Clinton has recently been questioned..

The Bodine case was reopened by a shadowy roving prosecutor named Sten Karr. In a telephone interview Karr said his new investigation revealed that the coroner in the case was a long time frog giggling buddy of Bill Clinton who had been Clinton's partner in the 1973 Frog Fry Nationals where they had placed 2nd overall in giggling and 1st overall in the Fried Frog Burger Eatin' Contest. The coroner, Mr. Karr stated, had also presided over 293 other cases in which Mr. Clinton had been implicated.

Between uncontrollable twitches Mr. Karr stated that Mr. Bodine was obviously the victim of Mr. Clinton's legendary voracious appetite. According to Karr, Governor Clinton while attending the Polk County Fair near (dare we say it?) Mena, had retired to a pickup truck owned by a former CIA contract pilot, one Bubba Sol Estes, (Billy Sol's third cousin twice removed). In the pickup Bubba and Bill shared some of Bubba's latest crop of Ouachita Ouaacky Ouaced (Pronounced Washata Wacky Weed), a potent herb well known for it's appetite stimulating qualities. The two apparently then giggled their way to the Barbecue Pavilion where the unfortunate Mr. Bodine carelessly placed himself between a now ravenous Gov. Clinton and a plate of Nadine Hovater's prize winning pork barbecue (outside cut).

Karr states that the resulting carnage was left for the Arkansas State Troopers to clean up and for the coroner to cover up while Clinton and Bubba Sol had a second helping of Nadine's finest. Reports that Clinton later had an affair with Bodine's bereaved widow who once lived in a double wide trailer next to one Paula Jones are still being ived in a double wide trailer next to one Paula Jones are still being investigated by the Stin Karr team.

When Local Mena Deputy Sheriff and Big Foot Chicken Farmer Buck Bailey was asked, "what he would do if he was asked to arrest Bill Clinton in Arkansas?" he said, "Well in that case my first action as a professional law enforcement officer would be to form a posse to move my butt to Oklahoma where I would retire. Besides, there is no doubt that the new prosecutor is a real Stin Karr, anyway.
